VOLUME CIX.--NO. 29 ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 3, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nervine. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeons' knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

THAW AT MATTEAWAN.

Adjudged not guilty of the murder of Stanford White, by reason of insanity at the time the fatal shots were fired, Harry Kendall Thaw, as stated in the Gazette of that day, was on Saturday held by the court to be a dangerous lunatic and was whirled away from New-York to the State hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan.

Thaw arrived there at 9:30 o'clock that night and was immediately assigned to the observation ward of the State hospital for the criminal insane, where he will remain for a week or two, until the authorities can note his mental condition and make some definite arrangement for his future stay in the institution.

The trip from New York was made without incident. Thaw chatted consantly with his attorneys, and smoked several black cigars. He gave out a statement on the train, in which he declared that his stay at the Matteawan would be brief. His counsel, he declared, would sue out a writ of habeas corpus in his behalf as soon as they had the desired proofs in hand.

Thaw spent his first night at the Matteawan State Hospital in ward No. 1. His companions, numbering about sixty, paid no more attention to him than is accorded to any other new arrival at the institution. For the first time in his life he became as one of the common herd.

He was assigned to a cot beside Quimbo Appo, the Chinese murderer who slew Paul Kelly, the prize fighter, thirty-three years ago. For an hour or two he was compelled to listen to the maudlin ravings of the old Celestial, who imagines he is the owner of a hundred or two $10,000,000 hotels and all that goes with them.

All in the ward are white men with the exception of Appo and a negro who occupied a bed three or four removed from Thaw. Many patients imagine themselves millionaires. Thaw is looked upon as a pauper by them.

Thaw passed a restless night. Yesterday morning he went to the shower bath and washed.

He completed his toilet at 6:50, in time to march to the men's dining hall, where 300 inmates are served by the more rational patients. He ate sparingly. The food was wholesome and well cooked.

Breakfast over, he was taken to the day room of ward 1, and assigned to a chair. Newspapers and magazines were placed at his disposal. When not trying to avoid conversation he attempted to read.

The worst hardship he has had to undergo as yet is being deprived of cigarettes. He is an inveterate smoker. Being compelled to break off suddenly has resulted in a great strain upon his nerves. He became angry about it at first, but the doctors were inexorable.

The patient may be allowed to smoke out in the court when taking his daily exercise, although this depends largely upon circumstances.

At 11:45 o'clock Thaw was ushered into the dining-hall, where a dinner, consisting of roast pork, potatoes, sauerkraut, and coffee, was served. He ate more heartily than at the morning meal.

His supper was served at 5:15 o'clock. It consisted of preserves, cake, and tea.

UNEASINESS IN SPAIN.

The assassination of King Carlos and Crown Prince Luiz Philippe has created general sorrow in Spain, but at the same time it has awakened the fears that once obtained that a recrudescence of anarchistic deeds are nor impossible in the Spanish monarchy, where the propaganda of the anarchists already has secured for them a strong foothold.

It is understood that for a long time there has been active communications between the radical revolutionists of Portugal and Spain, having in view the acting in accord at the psychological moment.

These facts induced the government yesterday to take a firm grip on the Spanish situation, with the intention of forestalling a possible outbreak of violence toward the monarchy.

King Alfonso was hunting at Lachar when he received the news of the assasination of the King and Crown Prince of Portugal. He immediately canceled all his engagements for festivities attending his visit, and will probably return to Madrid tomorrow.

An extraordinary meeting of the cabinet was held yesterday. This has given rise to a rumor that Spanish troops may be sent to the Portuguese frontier. All the officers of the Madrid garrison are confined to barracks, and there is great activity at the ministry of war.

The King has instructed the colonel of the Castilla Regiment, of which King Carlos was an honorary colonel, to proceed to Lisbon and watch at the bier of the dead sovereign.

King Alfonso will be represented at the funeral of his brother-in-law, the Infante Fernando, who is the husband of the Infanta Maria Teresa.

NORTH CAROLINA R. R. RATES

The special session of the North Carolina assembly was adjourned Saturday, following the passage of the amended railway rate bill by the Senate. Under the terms of the bill as passed, the corporation commission is given no duties in connection with the enforcement of the law. The bill now provides for a 2 1-2-cent rate of passenger fare in this State, and depends upon the railroad companies to fulfill their promises in letters to Gov. Glenn to sell a 2 1-2 cent interstate rate of mileage books of 2,000 miles to firms, heads of families, and four other members, at 2 cents; 1,000-mile books at 2 cents a mile to individuals, and intra-state milegae books of 500 miles at 2 1-2 cents, good for heads of families and dependent members not to exceed four. This bill is in essential harmony with the terms offered by Gov. Glenn to the railroads which fought the 2 1-4 cent rate.

Our Annual February Sale

—OF—

FANCY AND ODD FURNITURE.

We inaugurate today our Fifth Annual February Sale of Fancy and Odd Furniture. It presents a splendid collection of useful, practical, and decorative high-grade furniture for all parts of the house except the kitchen

At 25 to 50 Per Cent Below Actual Values.

The variety is larger and more comprehensive than any we have ever assembled.

Our buyer spent several weeks visiting the leading factories in the North, East, West and South—factories whose names stand for all that is best in furniture—securing their productions. As a result, several carloads are already here, and more are coming. And, besides large quantities of goods gathered especially for this sale, we shall add the one-of-a-kind pieces of our own splendid stock at reduced prices. And notwithstanding the goods are offered at a quarter to a half less than the usual prices, the construction and finish are unsurpassed and thoroughly reliable.

A particular feature of this sale is the large proportion of one-of-a-kind Pieces and Suites—there being in but few instances two just alike—thus affording exclusiveness in choice. And by going direct to the factories and making our own selections, we not only secured goods at the lowest prices, but also secured various lots, representing all the makers had of this or that particular kind, together with sample pieces, at very decisive price concessions.

It affords an opportunity to housekeepers to add pretty and odd pieces of furniture to the house at a small expenditure, and enables proprietors of hotels and boarding-houses to secure what may be needed in the furniture line, in the latest effects, at a great saving.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 3, 1908.

REGICIDES were again in evidence Saturday afternoon when King Carlos of Portugal and the Crown Prince Luis Philippe were shot and killed and Prince Manuel wounded in the city of Lisbon. The assassination was one of the boldest that has occurred in the world's history, and has cast a gloom over every palace in the civilized world. The news of the double assassination was a few hours later being read from bulletin boards in the principal cities of the globe, bringing forth, as it should, expressions of horror from all law-abiding people. There has been apprehension for some time in Lisbon, socialistic and anarchistic doctrines having been promulgated among the present generation many of whom have been taught to loath rulers and to despise law and order. The newspapers of this country, while announcing the terrible crimes with handbill headlines, are saying much concerning the unfortunate King Carlos which rather tends to fan the flame of regicide instead of decreasing crimes which have disgraced the world before and since the days of Philip of Macedon. King-killing is among the most heinous of all offenses, and no open or overt attempt should be made to mitigate the offense by publishing the private lives of monarchs who have been ruthlessly slain. Hence it matters not what odium may be attached to the memory of Carlos, he was King of Portugal and his position and person should have been respected. The great apostle to the gentiles wrote the Epistle to the Romans when Nero, the most sensual and bloodthirsty of all potentates, was on the throne of the Cæsars. Among other things Paul says: "Rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Render, therefore, to all their dues, tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; honor to whom honor." If such deference was to be paid to Nero, the world should have patience with those now on thrones.

REPORTS from Richmond are to the effect that Mr. Caton will probably introduce an amendment in the House of Delegates to the bill for the repeal of the R., F. & P. railway's special privilege prohibiting the paralleling of its tracks, which amendment may retard the passage of the repeal bill. It is hoped Mr. Caton will do nothing of the kind. Of course the State's interest in the R., F. & P. road should be properly looked after but not to the extent of preventing other railroads being built in this section of Virginia. The building of other roads would be of great benefit to the people, and the State's gain thereby would more than offset any loss that might possibly, but improbably, be sustained by the falling off in dividends derived from the stock of the R., F. & P. road held by the State. Then again it is not believed that a new road would materially injure the old one.

TEN cadets were expelled from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute on Saturday for hazing. The faculty, after a careful consideration of the case, informed the students that the decision was positive and final. To the foregoing official statement President Barringer added that he is determined to abolish all forms of hazing at the V. P. I. In this he has the co-operation of the commandant and members of the faculty and will have the support of the people of the State. Hazing is now out of date and should be no longer tolerated.

SINCE the opposition began to develop to the anti-excursion bill offered by Mr. Strode, in the State Senate, and which was prepared by the officers of the Interdenominational Sunday Observance Alliance, there is a disposition to amend the measure so as to permit the use of low-rate tickets on Sunday trains. But the bill still contains the provision which prohibits the operating of special passenger trains on Sunday. The passage of such a bill would do little good and would not materially improve the morals of the State.

THE groundhog yesterday walked right out, turned around, and walked right back again, and so, according to groundhogology, there is to be six weeks more of winter. But this will be but a repetition of the past few winters, the worse parts of which have been after the second of February.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., February 3.

By far the most serious blow that has yet been delivered by the Supreme Court of the United States to organized labor, was given today when that tribunal announced its decision that labor organizations are liable to damages for boycotts brought against manufacturers moved in interstate commerce. The question was brought before the Supreme Court of the United States by Dietrich Lowe, a hat manufacturer, of Danbury, Conn., Lowe sued in the lower court against the hatters union for damages alleged to have been sustained to his trade as the result of a boycott made on his hats because he maintained an open shop. Lowe claimed the hatters union, together with the American Federation of Labor, had conspired to restrain his interstate commerce trade, and were, therefore liable to punishment under the Sherman anti-trust law. The lower court dismissed the petition but the Supreme Court held today that the manufacturer had a claim for damages, and that the petition should not have been dismissed. It ordered that the lower court proceed to a trial of the case. The decision of the court was unanimous. This is the third important decision adverse to the interests of organized labor that has been rendered in the past few weeks by the highest court of the land, the first being the declaration of the unconstitutionality of the employers liability act and the second the knocking out of that section of the Erdman act, which made it unlawful for an interstete employer to discharge an employe because of membership in a union.

A torneys of high standing who listened expressed the belief that the decision of the court today will and practically the fight the American Manufacturers' Association has been making on the American Federation of Labor for the prohibition of the publication of its "We dont patronize" list, by which it boycotted nearly a hundred manufacturers who had offended labor organizations. The American Federation of Labor was made a party in the case decided today and is therefore liable for damages.

Heading off a possible larceny of campaign material, Representative Charles E. Townsend, spokesman in the House on railroad rate matters, today startled his democratic and pleased his republican brethren by arguing, from facts of history, that William Jennings Bryan is not father of anti-trust legislation and railroad regulation and that, therefore, President Roosevelt has not purloined the Nebraskan's policies.

It is not the existence of the industrial power, but rather its misuse, that is the real problem, says Commissioner Herbert Knox Smith of the Bureau of Corporations, defining in his annual report, issued today, the operations of the bureau, and the attitude of the government toward corporate combinations. The report contains a strong recommendation for general administrative supervision of interstate corporations. Whether the system take the form of a federal license plan, or simply a requirement that interstate corporations shall make reports and submit their books to a federal bureau, the commissioner suggests is of little consequence, but it is important that there be some system by which the government will deal with corporations administratively rather than by judicial procedure. The report details the results of prosecutions instigated by the bureau the past year for offenses against the Elkins law.

According to the statement today by Representative Henry, of Texas, the democrats of the House will probably caucus Wednesday or Thursday night to adopt resolutions endorsing the President's message of last Friday. "Every sentiment of the message, every suggestion for remedial legislations in the message" said Henry "is and has been sound democratic doctrines. The call for a caucus has not yet been formulated, but there is no objection to holding one, so far as I can learn, and it is up to the democrats to endorse what President Roosevelt tells the republican majority to do." Mr. Henry has evidently not read the message for if he has he would have seen that Mr. Roosevelt wishes to destroy State's rites, one of the cardinal principals of democracy.

FORAKER SCORES ROOSEVELT.

The Ohio Society of New York held their annual dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria on Saturday night. Gov. Hughes, of New York, was unable to attend but sent a letter of regret. Mr. Foraker and Judge Harmon made speeches.

Judge Harmon spoke against the proposition of government ownership of railways. He emphatically declared that while governmental supervision has much to commend it, ownership and operation by the government would be a mistake. But, he declared, if the railroads of the country do not follow a new plan and more emphatically safeguard the interests of all patrons government ownership will be forced by the people.

Senator Foraker struck at Roosevelt; put him at the top of the list of muck rakers and said he started the panic.

Among other things he said:

The chiefest cause of the industrial depression may be summed up in one word —"muck-raking."

Success was no longer an evidence of integrity, skill, capacity and energy, but only a sign of some crookedness which must be unearthed and punished.

For more than three years there has been a perfect saturnalia of that kind of literature.

In the midst of all and over all was heard the voice of the President.

His denunciations were of such declamatory and frightening character that they helped to create a general business distrust and alarm.

The result was inevitable.

When the crash came, "all the king's army and all the king's men" were helpless, and some of the most abused malefactors of wealth came to the rescue.

A more wholesome spirit now prevails and as the end draws nearer and Congress grows more independent the power of the chief executive wanes.

Padlock the muck-raker, high and low.

President Roosevelt has refused to extend an invitation to King Leopold, of Belgium, to visit the United States. The President's refusal followed an unofficial intimation that the King contemplated coming to this country for the purpose of observing and meeting the American people.

KING CARLOS ASSASSINATED.

King Carlos of Portugal and the Crown Prince Luis Philippe were assassinated Saturday evening. They were shot to death while seated in the royal carriage at Lisbon just after their return from Villa Viscosa, where they had been sojourning, by a band of men who fired a volley from carbines. The royal family were driving in an open carriage, when a group of men at the corner of Praca Do Commercio and the Rua Do Arsenal suddenly sprang toward the carriage and, leveling carbines, which they had concealed upon them, fired, mortally wounding the King and the Crown Prince, and slightly wounding the King's second son, Prince Manuel. Queen Amelie, who rose in the carriage and tried to shield the Crown Prince, was unhurt.

Police guards sprang upon the regicides, the number of whom is somewhat uncertain, and killed three of them and captured three others. One of these committed suicide after being placed in prison. It is charged that one of the murderers was a Spaniard named Cordova.

The bodies of the King and the Crown Prince were removed from the marine arsenal in two closed carriages to the royal palace, the Paso das Necessidades, the late residence, escorted by municipal guards.

The news of the assassination swept through the city like wild fire and at night half the populace was panic stricken, not knowing where the next blow may fall. Throughout the city consternation reigned and all the houses and business places were barricaded.

The theatre and cafes were closed, the streets were almost deserted and the electric cars moved without passengers. The minds of all the faithful monarchists turned to the thought that the wounded infants Manuel is now King of Portugal, and couriers hastened through the streets, summoning to the bedside of the wounded youth all the skilled physicians that could be found in Lisbon.

Premier Franco, the dictator of the kingdom, hastened to the palace protected by a squadron of cavalrymen, and there he conferred with the Queen and high officials of state on what immediate action should be taken.

It is understood the Queen Amelie will be regent during the minority of Prince Manuel, who is now in his nineteenth year.

The assassins undoubtedly belonged to one of the bands of conspirators that have been plotting the overthrow of the monarchy and the re-establishment of a republic.

The persistance of Premier Franco in the maintenance of a practical dictatorship of the country was undoubtedly the primary cause of the regicide.

It is true that the murder of King Carlos and his son was a political crime, but it is not true that the mass, even of the republicans, sympathize with murder. On the contrary, they are revolted and infuriated by the idea that a pure republic can have its birth in assassination.

The council of state yesterday issued a proclamation giving the facts of the assassination of King Carlos and the crown prince, and declaring that Infante Manuel is now the King of Portugal.

The terrible event has strengthened monarchist feeling in the army, the discipline of which is perfect.

The King has issued the following proclamation:

"Portugese:

"An abominable outrage has oppressed with deepest bitterness my heart as a son and brother.

"I know that the nation shares my grief, and abhors this horrible, dartardly crime, which is unprecedented in history.

"I am summoned by the constitution to preside over the destinies of the kingdom, and in the task I will employ all my efforts for the welfare of the country, and to deserve the love of the Portugese people.

"I swear to maintain the Catholic religon, and the integrity of the kingdom, and to observe, and cause to be observed, the political constitution of the nation.

"I further declare that it please me to retain in office the present ministers.

"Given at the palace, February 2, 1908. DOM MANUEL II."

It is announced that the young King Manuel will firmly support Premier Franco. There will be no regency, as the successor to the crown becomes eligible at eighteen years of age. King Manuel presided at his first cabinet council today. He was pale, and carried his arm in a sling, but he was calm and brave after his awful experience. He is an intelligent lad, and much resembles his father.

The Cortes will be summoned shortly to take the oath of allegiance, but whether it will be allowed to resume its legislative functions has not yet been decided.

In accordance with traditional usage the remains of King Carlos and the crown prince will lie in state in public. The funeral will probably take place on February 10.

Early yesterday morning Premier Franco proclaimed the accession of Prince Manuel to the throne, the naval and military chief, the high dignitaries of state swore allegiance to the new King, and Portugal still lived under a monarchy. In stating the facts of the murder the proclamation declares that when the assassins attacked the royal carriage Queen Amelie acted with the greatest courage, heriocally attempting to shield her sons at the risk of her own life.

All the courts of Europe have gone into mourning for King Carlos and the Crown Prince of Portugal.

STATE REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

At a meeting of the State republican committee, held in Richmond Saturday night for the purpose of deciding upon the time and place for the State convention, Alvah H. Martin, of Norfolk, was indorsed for membership on the republican national committee to succeed George E. Bowden. The election of Mr. Martin was unanimous.

The republican State convention will be held in Lynchburg on April 8. The basis of representation will be one delegate for every fifty votes and fraction over twenty-five cast for Roosevelt at the last general election.

Candidates are to be put in the field in every Congressional district in the State. The policies of C. Bascomb Slemp as State chairman were indorsed.

Mrs. Ella Jet Taliaferro, seventy-five years old, widow of Captain John S. Taliaferro, died at Fredericksburg on Saturday.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Conditions in Portugal.

Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 3.—Premier Franco, acting as absolute dictator under full powers from the new 19 year old king, Dom Manuel II., seems to have Portugal under complete control today.

The dictator is fairly combing the country for the persons at the bottom of the plot which cost King Carlos and Crown Prince Luis Phillippe their lives. It is believed the actual assassins were only tools. Men of high position are suspected of promoting the conspiracy. Unless they have already crossed the border there is small chance of their escape. Franco has blocked every avenue of exit and practically surrounded the country with a cordon of troops.

King Manuel is suffering little from the wound he received in his arm when his father and brother were shot. The injury is slight. Queen Amelie lingers sleepiessly beside the corpses of her dead husband and son. Though almost prostrated, she disregards all pleas that she quit the death chamber for food or rest. Her physicians fear for the sanity of Queen Amelie.

The bodies lie in the Necessidades Palace. The highest court dignitaries are waiting at the Queen's side. The funeral will be held on the 10th instant.

The version of the assassination most generally accepted is that six men were concerned in the actual assassination. The king and queen, with their two sons, had taken open carriages from the railroad station, where they had just arrived from Villa Vicosa.

Just as the first carriage with the king, queen and crown prince turned into the Rua Do Arsenal the six assassins leaped from the crowd on the right side of the street and fired a perfect fusillade from their carbines.

The king sank back dying. The crown prince leaped from his seat only to pitch forward across his father's body. The queen threw herself across the forms to shield them, striking furiously at the approaching murderers with a huge bouquet handed her just as she left the train. A bullet grazed, but did not hurt her. The coachman lashed his horses and the carriage went forward.

Prince Manuel, in the second carriage, had opened fire with his revolver on the assassins, and continued firing until a bullet struck him in the right arm.

The mounted police escort killed three of the assassins as they fled and captured the rest, with the assistance of the crowd. Dispatches from Lisbon confirmed the reports that the leader of the assassins was Sergeant Manuel Buica, of the seventh cavalry. He was killed. The others were clerks. One was named Alfred Costa. The third has not been certainly identified.

Paris, Feb. 3.—The Franco cabinet has fallen and its leader will have no place under the new government.

The new king, Manuel II. whose initial proclamation made it clear that he at first intended to continue his father's premier in power, is said to have changed his programme as a result of advice from England. A coalition ministry will be named.

Despite denials from the British admiralty that English warships will interfere in the event of a revolutionary outbreak at Lisbon, it is believed here that the Atlantic fleet was ordered from Vigo, Spain, to the Portugese port for no other reason. Positive confirmation has been received from London that the order has been issued.

London, Feb. 3.—King Elward is resolved not to permit the overthrow of the Portugese dynasty, according to unofficial but authoritative information from the highest government sources. If necessary he will lend King Manuel military aid in suppressing revolution. An outbreak is not, however, considered likely. The British cruisers Antrim, Carnatvon, Drake and Devonshire have sailed from Gibraltar for Lisbon where they will act under orders from the English ambassador.

Lisbon, Portugal, via frontier, Feb. 3.—A battalion of infantry revolted at Oporto following the receipt of news of the assassination of the king and crown prince, the men declaring they would serve no longer under a monarchist government. Loyal troops arrested the mutineers without a fight. The trouble is believed to have furnished the basis for reports that a republic had been proclaimed at Oporto.

Thaw Chafing Under Discipline.

Matteawan, N. Y., Feb. 3.—If reports from the officials of the Matteawan Asylum are true, Harry K Thaw is already chafing under the discipline of the institution. He is declared to be emphatically disappointed over the failure of his lawyers to secure him the privilege of a private room. Then, too, he had an abundance of alcoholic stimulants prior to his arrival here and was somewhat worked up when he was told Sunday he could have no more while he remained here a prisoner. Thaw brought a large sum of money—one report is that it totalled $6,000—but much of it was taken from him and turned over to his attorneys. If he wants delicacies from the Fishkill stores he can have them sent here and charged. Thaw's measurements and photograph for the asylum records were taken today. To the guards who had charge of him he boasted that his lawyers would have him out of there in a week.

Charles Summerville in the New York Evening Journal today quotes Harry K. Thaw as declaring he killed White because he expected him to shoot, and that the question of his wife's former relations with the architect did not enter into the shooting.

After describing what he remembers of the shooting, Thaw is reported as saying: "As to those hideous stories that were circulated about me and which Mr. Jerome from his denunciation of me seems still to believe, I want to say to the public that they were all lies. I am no saint. But let me tell you something. In some ways the rich are as helpless as the poor. Any young man of wealth will find himself subtly and vilely slandered by creatures like Abe Hummel with a blackmailing end in view."

Fishkill Landing, N. Y. Feb. 3—Following a conference between the heads of the Matteawan Asylum this afternoon it was decided that the condition of Harry K. Thaw was such that he need not be kept in the main observation ward. Consequently he was transferred to one of the small wards where there are but three inmates and later he may get a private room. Thaw's attorneys have made arrangements for him to secure all the delicacies he may desire.

Charges Against Judge Blackstone.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Feb. 3.—Great was the surprise in the House today shortly after noon when Delegate Houston, representing Hampton and Elizabeth City counties, presented a petition signed by four hundred of his constituents who asked for the impeachment of Judge J. W. G. Blackstone, of the Eleventh judicial circuit. The petition charges the judge with neglect of official duty, immorality and incompetency. Delegate Houston said the signers were the most representative people of the community. The petition was referred to the committee on courts of justice.

Anxiety in Madrid.

Madrid, Feb. 3.—The Spanish government is gravely alarmed lest revolutionary outbreaks in Spain result from Saturday's tragedy at Lisbon.

Ball cartridges have been served to the troops in barracks here, and orders have been issued for a mobilization of troops along the Portugese frontier.

It is believed the mobilization contemplates the use of the soldiers not only in the event of trouble in Spain, but that they will be rushed to the support of the new King of Portugal, should his life or authority be threatened and his own military force prove disloyal. All of the Spanish royal family are surrounded by guards and detectives, and secret service agents swarm throughout the city.

Seven Men Killed.

Northumberland, Pa. Feb. 3—A boiler in the puddling department of Van Allen & Co's. nail mill here, exploded today killing seven men and injuring several others. A number of the latter who are now at the hospital in Sunbury it is feared will die. The mill had just resumed operations at 4 o'clock this morning after a four months shut down.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 3.—After a quiet opening the market became generally heavy especially for the railroad issues. In the first hour many stocks sustained material declines. In government bonds the fours declined 1 per cent, the threes and fours registered ½ and the twos ¼ per cent. Other bonds easier.

After the first hour the selling seemed to have exhausted itself and purchases caused a moderate rally from the lowest levels reached earlier in the day. A number of issues moved up irregular amounts, varying from small fractions to one point.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 3.

SENATE.

The Senate today unanimously passed a resolution expressing regret over the assassination of the king and the crown prince of Portugal.

The resolution, presented by Chairman Cullom, of the foreign relations committee, was as follows:

"Resolved, that the death by unlawful and inhuman violence of the king and crown prince of Portugal is sincerely deplored by the Senate of the United States of America.

"Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be delivered to the President of the United States, with the request that he communicate the same to the government of Portugal."

The minority leader of the Senate, Mr. Culberson, is not through with the Secretary of the Treasury. He introduced a resolution today directing that official to inform the Senate whether any bank outside of New York city complained to the Secretary, United Treasurer or Comptroller of the Currency, between October 1 and November 1, 1907, by telegram or letter "of the refusal of any national banks of New York city to pay in cash New York exchange or to respond to calls for reserves," and calling for copies of such telegrams.

The Senate today passed without objection the Tillman resolution, calling upon the President to report what information the Department of Justice had received relative to land grant railroads on the Pacific illegally holding public lands, and asking what action the attorney general was contemplating with a view of recovering the land. Mr. Tillman is preparing to discuss the charge that the Southern Pacific is officially known to have been illegally holding many thousands of acres of coal and timber lands.

HOUSE

A new scheme for the accomplishment of the purposes of the employers' liability act, recently declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States was advanced in the House today by Mr. Sabbath (dem. Ill). His measure provides a compensation to employees engaged in interstate commerce and including employees subject to the navigation and shipping laws of the United States, who sustain and suffer injuries or death. Assessments are to be levied on the employers by a commission of injury awards, appointed by the President. The attorney general is charged with the prosecution of all employers when employees are injured.

Mr. Cary (rep. Wis) introduced a resolution for the appointment of a commission to investigate into the alleged illegal practices and breaches of trust on the part of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies during the recent strike.

Representative Lilly (rep. Conn.) introduced a general pension bill in the House today to pension all Spanish war veterans incapacitated for manual labor.

The House passed the McKinley-Sulloway bill giving a pension of $12 a month to widows of soldiers of the Mexican, Indian, Civil and Spanish American wars. It is estimated that this increase will swell expenditures for the pension rolls by at least twelve million dollars annually.

Chairman Sulloway, of the invalid pension committee, said that at least 18,000 names would be added to the rolls by the waiving of the restriction that widows with a yearly income of $250 had no pensionable status.

As has been stated in the Gazette, about 500 members of the Junior Order United Americans will be in the line of parade.

Thomas Chauncey, chairman of the hack committee, tendered his resignation, and Thomas L. Hall was appointed in his stead.

The following committee was appointed to name a chief marshal and select a route for the parade; Mayor F. J. Paff, A. D. Brockett, J. H. Trimyer, E. E. Downham and W. W. Ballenger. President Williams will be chairman of this committee ex-officio.

Reports from the various committees were encouraging. The treasurer stated that the funds collected this year exceeded those of any previous year.

The following constitute the committee on secret organizations: A. A. Paul, chairman; J. H. Trimyer, J. R. Mansfield, A. J. Butcher, E. F. Downham, Harvey B. Struder, O. R. Howard, W. A. Harding, G. N. Cradlin and C. M. Schwab.

A committee from the association went to Washington this afternoon for the purpose of holding a conference with Chief Belt, of the Washington fire department relative to having a portion of the fire department of that city take part in the parade which will be held February 22. Chief Belt told the committee that he would send ten pieces of apparatus to this city on the 22d, together with the men who man the same. The chief will be here himself on the occasion.

Meetings of the committee will be held every Saturday night until the day of the parade.

ANOTHER COLD WAVE.

The weather Saturday evening grew cold, and a heavy northwest wind set in which prevailed for about twenty four hours. The temperature fell far below the freezing point, and by yesterday morning the river was frozen from shore to shore. The stiff, cold wind kept most people around stoves during the day.

The ice in the river extends down many miles, although most of the trouble experienced by steamers is between Glymont and this port.

The river steamers have temporarily suspended operations, but the Norfolk and Baltimore steamers are running about on schedule time.

The ferryboat is still making trips between this city and Washington.

The weather has been milder today.

The mercury yesterday morning registered 10° and at 3 o'clock this evening it stood at 38°.

DEATH OF MR. MARYE.

Mr. Robert Marye, a prominent grain broker of Baltimore, died suddenly Friday night of heart disease at the University Club in that city. He had just stopped in the club for a few moments, and after a brief conversation with some of the members started to leave, when he dropped to the floor and expired. Mr. Marye was born in 1850 at Marye Heights, Fredericksburg. His parents were Dr. James B. and Mrs. Jane Christian Jett Marye. There were in his family three brothers and two sisters, all of whom are living—Messrs William Nelson, James Alfred, and John L. and the Misses Nannie B. and Mary Madison Marye, the last three named residing in this city. In 1882 Mr. Marye married Miss Helen Canby, of Baltimore. Two sons survive, besides the widow—Messrs. Robert Turner and William Canby. Mr. Marye was well-know in this city where he lived for a short time several years ago.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of the late Benjamin H. Lambert took place this afternoon from the residence, 314 Duke street. Rev. P. P. Phillips, pastor of St. Paul's Church, officated. The pallbearers were Messrs. Ernest R Grymes, Carlton Grymes, Clarence Keith, Jack Monroe, Geo. H. Robinson and J. Frank Carlin. The remains were placed in the Henderson vault in the Methodist Protestant cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ellen Cole, whose death occurred Thursday night at her home in Fairfax county, near this city, took place this afternoon, from Sharon Chapel. Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, conducted the services, and the interment was made in the cemetery at that place.

The remains of Mrs. Henrietta Ages, colored, who died in Washington last Thursday, were brought to this city today and interred.

HELD UP BY FOOTPADS.

Mr. Thomas Terrett, who lives in Fairfax county, a short distance from this city, and two friends were accosted while driving home late Saturday night by three masked men. They were near the Episcopal Theological Seminary at the time. The footpads fired several shots at Mr. Terrett and his party, but none took effect. The victims were searched, the robbers securing $2. Mr. Terrett threw $72 under the wagon and thereby saved that amount. The highwaymen fled after firing several more shots.

A tramp steamer which passed down the river from Georgetown last week ran aground on Port Tobacco shoals Friday, and is still stuck fast in the mud. The steamer has a Baltimore pilot aboard.

THE POTOMAC YARDS.

It is now said that the new Potomac freight yards in Alexandria county will not be abandoned, as has been rumored. The representatives of the freight traffic departments of the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio, Southern and Washington Southern systems have, it is reported, determined to continue to occupy the yards, but the cost of operating is to be curtailed. It is probable that work at the yards will be done with a reduced force and that expenses will be curtailed in other departments of the freight-handling plant. One hundred and ten men were discharged at the yards last Saturday.

DEATH OF A COLORED WOMAN

Patsy Contee, an old and respected colored woman, for the last nine or ten years a faithful servant in the family of Mrs. Gorge A. Mushback, died on Sunday after an illness of a few weeks. She was one of the "old time" servants, whose place will not soon be filled, highly respected and loved by the family of her employer and by all with whom she came in contract. She was a consistent member of her church, and truthfully can it be said of her she always did her duty faithfully and to the best of her ability.

FORMER ALEXANDRIAN WINS HONORS.

At the international convention of the Custom Cutters' Association held last week at the Arlington Hotel, Washington, Mr. L. A. Downey, formerly of this city, received high honors for his exhibit of garments in competition with the highest class trade of Canada and the United States. Mr. Downey's garments received much merited praise for originality, lines, balance and effect, winning the highest honors of the profession in the national capital and tieing for second honors in the country at large.

RAID ON POLICY.

Chief Goods, acting Lieutenant Roberts and Officers Nicholson, Beach and Gill early this afternoon made a descent upon an alleged policy joint at the corner of Princess and Pitt streets and arrested eleven negroes, who, it is said, are promoters of the game. The accused were conducted to the station house and locked up. The officers captured a lot of paraphernalia. Positive evidence, it is said, has been obtained against the darkeys. The case will come up in the Police Court tomorrow morning.

OPERA HOUSE.

Harry Shannon's powerful comedy drama, "The Banker's Child," is a simple tale woven around the lives of a few people, among them a man who deserts his wife and child. It is a stage poem with all those things which make tears and laughter commingle. This great play will be presented by The Shannons, supported by a most clever cast. The play is from the pen of Eunice Fitch. For one night only.

ON LOOKOUT FOR NEGRO.

The policemen are on the lookout for a negro who is suffering from smallpox and who is believed to be in this city. Mr. McDonald, foreman of the car repair shops at the Potomac railroad yards, has notified the authorities that the darkey was employed at the yards, and that when it was ascertained that he was suffering from smallpox he was ordered to leave. It is said that he came to this city.

EXPRESS AGENT RESIGNS.

Mr. Charles J. Geisendaffer, who has for several years past been agent of the Adams Express Company in this city, has resigned that position and has been succeeded by Mr. W. H. Trogle, of Baltimore. No other changes have been made in the office. Mr. J. H. Alexander, of Richmond, one of the traveling auditors of the company, is now in this city examining the accounts of the office.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

There were but two cases before the Police Court this morning.

A young white man had left collateral for his appearance to answer a charge of disorderly conduct. He did not appear and forfeited the deposit.

A white man, charged with vagrancy, was sent to jail for ten days.

ROBBERIES.

Early Saturday night a sneak thief rifled a countryman's wagon, which was standing near the corner of Prince and Payne streets, of a quantity of groceries.

Between two and three o'clock yesterday morning thieves entered the public house conducted by Wash. Jackson, colored, at the corner of King and Peyton streets, and stole meat, flour, &c.

DEATH AT HOSPITAL.

Robert Elder Ballock, a resident of Takoma Park, D. C., died yesterday at the Alexandria Hospital. He had been a sufferer from Bright's disease. The deceased was seventy-six years of age, and is survived by one daughter. Mr. Ballock was a native of Fredericktown, Canada.

MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 3, 1908.

Mild Hazing.

The proprietor of a plumbing establishment downtown has a poor opinion of goat initiations. A young man, dapper and twenty, came into his plumbing shop and asked to see an expensive porcelain bathtub. The proprietor explained at length the good qualities of a certain make.

"This seems to be an excellent one," said the young man.

Without warning he jumped into the bathtub, drew his coat closely around him and exclaimed: "Quick, turn on the water! I want to try it."

The proprietor thought he was insane and, soothing his head, said, "There, there, you're all right."

"Yes," the young man gurgled, splashing in the imaginary water; "it's very comfortable."

Then he began to squirm and sputter.

"Quick, quick!" he cried. "Turn off the water! I'm drowning!"

"Wait till I reach the faucet," said the proprietor softly, side stepping to the telephone.

Just at this moment two other young men, a trifle older, entered.

"Well, Bobby, had your bath?" they inquired.

"Yes."

"Then come down to the vegetarian restaurant and order a side of roast beef."—New York Globe.

Good as a Corkscrew.

"Do you know how to take a tight cork out of a bottle without a corkscrew?" was asked by a woman the other day at a gossip party. "It's a mighty good thing to know in an emergency.

"My sister and I were coming back from the mountains, and she got faint on the cars. I had a bottle of aromatic spirits of ammonia in my bag, but when I tried to get the cork out I simply couldn't make it budge.

"'Let me take it out for you,' suggested a man across the aisle.

"Then, borrowing my pocketknife and using his own with it, he removed the cork in a jiffy. He inserted the blades on opposite sides between the bottle and the cork, each one turned in a different direction. Then when the blades were firmly pushed in he simply pressed the two together, gave them a wrench sideways, and the cork came out without any trouble. I have since tried it on larger bottles with success. It is a trick worth knowing."—Exchange.

The Quest of Truth.

It is a good deal easier to poke fun at history than to write history meriting credence. Mr. Bodley when writing his "France" experienced the force of this in a curious way. He shut himself up in France for years to get the atmosphere and the knowledge necessary for his work. One of his trials arose over some question of electoral jurisprudence. It was not of international importance, but still interesting to students of comparative procedure. Therefore he wrote to a deputy who is a parliamentary expert to clear up the obscurity in which the text books involve the point and incorporated his reply in the text of the book. Later, being invited by an experienced mayor to be present at a poll over which he presided, Mr. Bodley put the question to him and received a quite different reply. Finally the author referred the point to a senator of indisputable authority, who showed that the deputy and the mayor were both wrong.—St. James' Gazette.

Woman's Wit.

An emperor of Germany besieged a city which belonged to one of his rebellious noblemen. After the siege had lasted for a long time the emperor determined to take it by storm and to destroy all it contained by fire and sword. He did not, however, wish to injure the defenseless women; therefore, he sent a proclamation into the town, saying that all the women might leave the place unhurt and carry with them whatever they held most precious. The nobleman's wife instantly decided to take her husband, and the other women followed her example. They soon issued from the city gate in a long procession, each one with her husband on her shoulders. The emperor was so much struck with the noble conduct of the women that he spared all; even the city itself was left untouched.

Wouldn't Tip It.

A Toronto man who visited England last summer appears to think that country the champion tip taker. He says: "Well, I had tipped every man from the swell gent who seemed to own the house of commons down to the hireling who gummed the wrong labels on my luggage, and I went into the waiting room on the landing stage at Liverpool to wash my hands of everything English, and what do you think stared me in the face when I had finished? A placard saying, 'Please tip the basin.' I'll be hanged if I did!"

CHANGE IN WILMINGTON, O.

Municipal Lighting Plant Abandoned After Ten Disastrous Years.

A responsible citizen of Wilmington sends the following information:

"In the year 1892 the village of Wilmington built an electric light plant at the cost of some $40,000. The municipality from year to year made changes and additions and had accidents from bad management until in the year 1902 it decided to sell the plant, it having cost on an average over $10,000 per year to operate same, frequently being entirely without light for from one week to three months at a time. The service was very inferior, and current was furnished customers from 4 to 5 o'clock in the evening until midnight. The number of street lamps varied from 80 to 100.

"The plant was sold, together with the franchise for light and water, for the sum of $12,000, the plant being worth as junk about $7,000, the other $5,000 being for the rights and privileges under the franchise. The company that bought it constructed a new plant and furnishes an all night service."

At present the total cost to the village for the lighting of the streets (123 arcs), city hall and other public buildings, together with fire protection from eighty-one hydrants and water for the public buildings, is less than the cost of operating the electric light plant for an average of ninety arcs under the municipal regime, without any allowance for lost taxes and depreciation, the latter item alone amounting to $3,300 a year.

Didn't Even Need Raking.

During the discussion of the Meden bill for cheaper gas in the Michigan legislature Congressman Legare told the following story of a cook he had brought from home with him. She was a splendid servant, but she didn't know anything about gas to cook with, so he went to the kitchen with her to explain about the range. So that she could see how it operated he lit each of the many burners. While still explaining a message called him from the kitchen, and he left her, saying, "I guess you will find it will work all right now, Martha." He didn't see the cook again for four or five days; then upon entering the kitchen he said, "Well, Martha, how's that range doing?" To his utter consternation she replied: "'Deed, sir, that's the best stove I ever did see. That fire that you kindled for me four days ago is still a-burning, and it ain't even lowered once."—Progressive Age.

The "pure food law" is designed by the government to protect the public from injurious ingredients in both foods and drugs. It is beneficial both to the public and to the concientious manufacturer. Ely's Cream Balm, a successful remedy for cold in the head, nasal catarrh, hay fever, etc., containing no injurious drugs, meets fully the requirements of the new law, and that fact is prominently stated on every package. It contains none of the injurious drugs which are required by law to be mentioned on the label. Hence you can use it safely.
